Greater Farallones NMS Advisory Council Adopts Marin County Recommendations for Sediment Management

At its November 15th 2017 meeting, the Greater Farallones National Marine Sanctuary Advisory Council voted to adopt the sediment management recommendations for Marin County put forth by the Sonoma/Marin Coastal Regional Sediment Management Working Group. The Working Group brought together stakeholders and agency representatives to address sediment management issues along the Sonoma and Marin coastline. The recommendations laid out concerns and issues, addressed management goals, and suggested strategies for short and long-term sediment management issues.
